Wicket-keeping Products

Newbery Uzi Wicket keeping gloves

These are really nice wicket keeping gloves, at an extremely sensible price, from a manufacturer who really understands Cricket equipment.

Conforming to all MCC/ICC regulations these have a rounded cuff design, octopus ping pong rubber facing – which is great to help prevent the ball “spilling out” of the glove once you have caught it!

Extremely popular in this “jazzy” orange-black colour-way, with a high quality metallic leather back to the glove that needs to be seen & be touched to be fully appreciated.

We keep these in stock all year round in Youths size & in Boys/Girls size.

Recommended Retail price £25.00

Our price: £23.00

Newbery Wicket keeping Inners

These chamois leather palm wicket keeping inners worth owning - which sadly we can't say about a great many others we have seen over the years (some of which are really very nasty indeed.)

These inners are well made from beautifully soft materials – first of all there is the lovely soft chamois leather palm to mention, then there's the lovely padded cotton mesh type backing and they also have an elasticated wristband.

Please don't be fooled by them being so inexpensive. They are perfect for the job, and really comfortable to wear.

We keep these in stock in Youths size all year round.

Recommended Retail price £6.00

Our price: £5.50

Wicket keeping pads – There is masses of choice.....

Because of the wide range of WK pads that are now available on the market (let alone the different sizes), we deliberately don't now keep wicket keeping pads in stock - but we can obtain them for you.

We can also show you samples and pictures if you are interested in finding out more. Please ask for more details & for prices and for our advice on the different options which are available to you.
